

The Janesville Daily Gazette.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN TUESDAY, JULY 6, 1886.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $6 a Year.

NUMBER 100

VOLUME 30

Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, JULY 6.

Say the Democratic Dallas Herald: "Cleveland is about the only man at Washington with courage enough to say no to a popular element." Yes, and Cleveland is the only man at Washington who has the goodness of heart to cast his ballot with others who make application for pensions.

Abram Hewitt announces that with this congress his political career will end. He says he is tired of public life. Mr. Hewitt is a man of health and health, and it is a matter of some surprise that he should have spent so much of his time in the improbable pursuit of political "hours." The fact no doubt is, that he has hoped to become something more than a representative in congress.—Evening Wisconsin.

When Mr. Hewitt first announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election, he said he could not afford to throw away his time in that body. He said that there was so much selfishness in congress, so many members who were working for themselves and not for the country, that his time was thrown away in attempting to inaugurate any reform. At one time he hoped that congress would improve in this respect, but it seems to grow worse instead of better, and becoming disgusted he declares that his service in the house must end. The way the present congress and other congresses have done business, Mr. Hewitt is not far from hitting the nail squarely on the head. As a rules members of congress work for themselves and not for the country.

Mr. William D. Eaton tells an amusing story about Senator John A. Logan, says the Chicago News. It seems that some time ago the senator foresaw that the tariff question was going to become one of the gravest issues for congressional consideration, and he very wisely determined to devote some time and study to it. Accordingly he sat down and addressed a note to the librarian of congress as follows: "My Dear Spofford: Will you please send to my house whatever works on the tariff, protection, free trade, etc., which you may happen to have in the library. I will see that they are returned in a day or two, as soon as I have read them. Yours, John A. Logan."

The next day, when Senator Logan was at lunch, up drove two express wagons loaded down with books of every size and description. One of the drivers handed him this note: "Dear Senator: I send herewith two wagon loads of the books. Will send two more this afternoon. Will send the rest to-morrow if I can get to it, but our clerks are so busy just now with other work, that I can't promise you for certain. Yours, A. R. Spofford."

Senator Logan sent his books back again as he could, but he thought the joke on himself such a good one that he was the first to hit it.

GOVERNOR RUSK AND THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

The Presbyterian preacher at Madison who opened the phials of his pious wrath upon Gov. Rusk for permitting the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to meet in the state capitol on Sunday, should in the absence of any other circumstantial evidence that he is in the employ of the governor's political friends be credited with the assuming stupidity of a Bureaucrat.

The churches take up collections and do other church business on Sunday because it is more convenient and easy than on other days. The Locomotive Engineers' brotherhood meet and transact the business of their fraternity and benevolent order on Sunday because it is a necessity. Duty required them to be widely scattered at their work on other days.

Whether the engineers should or should not have met in the capital on Sunday and take the risk of incurring the possible displeasure of ultra precise Sabbath preservers was a question to be decided by the engineers themselves, a question which, decided by them, it would be impolite and unpolite for Governor Rusk to reconsider.—Milwaukee Journal.

A good deal is being said on the question discussed in the foregoing very sensible paragraphs. It is quite evident that the good people who find fault with the governor for the part he took in the meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, do not clearly understand the situation.

In the first place, the governor had no right to refuse the assembly chamber when its use was respectfully requested by the brotherhood. The temple belongs to the state, and the use of the chamber has been repeatedly given to those who desired to use it for such causes as temperance, social reforms, political gatherings, and the meetings of benevolent societies. There would have been righteous condemnation heaped upon the governor by people in all parts of the state had he been so unwise as to sternly refuse to allow the members of a benevolent organization to meet in the assembly chamber.

In the second place, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is a benevolent organization. Its object is simply to do good. It is not merely a social organization, the members of which are banded together for fun and frolic, but it is one, the chief purpose of which is to protect the homes of the engineers. We were told at one of our churches last Sunday morning by an earnest christian minister that the most sacred spot on earth was the home, and one greater than any who canse the people that the holiest temple be beneath the skies, is the home that love has built. And this true. The engineer's who have more courage and steeper nerves than the average of men, not that they might improve their social condition and that they might briefly discuss those questions which pertain to life assurance and to administering to the necessities of the unfortunate and the sick.

In the third place the engineers could not meet on any other day than Sunday.

Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

LABOR MAKES AN APPEAL.

AMERICAN WORKMEN PLEASING WITH THEIR BRITISH BRETHREN

To Adopt the American Idea for Ireland—A Grand Convocation Seen with Proprietary Optics—But the British Workman Continues to Elect Taylor All the Same.

New York, July 6.—The workingmen's mass meeting in Union Square Monday afternoon called as a home rule demonstration was attended by fully 10,000 people. A score of labor unions took part. The speaker was from four stands, the principal orators of the square. From two of these the speeches were in English, from one in German, and the other stand was occupied by lady speakers, including Mrs. Farnell, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Devereux Blake and Miss Ellen Ford. The large gathering was enthusiastic but orderly, and the detail of 300 police found little to do. The principal stand fell just as the exercises were beginning, and about 150 persons were thrown down in a heap to great alarm of those who braced and held seriously hurt. The speaker had much excitement for a moment, but order was soon restored and speaker's platform improvised. Robert Blissett then delivered the opening address, and read a series of resolutions, in effect as follows:

The workingmen of New York and vicinity, believing that they, on this occasion, represent those of the continent, assembled on the birthday of America, to protest against the workingmen of Great Britain and Ireland. The object of the meeting is to manifest interest in the struggle waging there between the toiling, precifing and wronged masses and the idle, consuming and oppressive privileged classes in the contest for home rule in Ireland. The workingmen of Great Britain and Ireland are urged to favor our work here. They are to observe the important effects of American home rule and liberty, which may be reproduced in their own land. The resolutions continue:

"We feel that in making this appeal we are guilty of no impudent intrusion, but that we are but reciprocating the sympathy and encouragement which you sent to us when we were battling, not with tasks with pulse, for the freedom of Ireland, but with those who would disrupt it to build up a hostile nation, based, as iron a cornerstones, upon the perpetuation of human slavery. In that struggle * * your sympathies and your protests helped not a little to restrain your aristocratic government from interfering with our determine. * * *

"We would ask for Ireland the same autonomy that is now granted to the states of our Union. * * * The granting of similar home rule to Ireland, would, we believe, speedily cause Irishmen in Ireland and Great Britain to cherish the same enthusiastic love for the day of their union as Irishmen in this country, in common with all their fellow citizens, feel for the day of our Union and for what it represents.

"This blessed vision of peaceful and happy union inspired us to rise to this effort, and to present to the world, the epochal emancipation of Ireland with all very much to hasten, when not only the present British empire shall be united in a mighty federation of states, but the whole English-speaking people, including the hundred millions of the New American confederacy, shall form a nation, such a union will be world-wide, not so much by the irresistible might of number and power as by unrestrained progress in the ways of civilization and peace.

"The resolution was adopted, and ordered to be copied to Gladstone and Parnell. Speeches were then made by ex-Senator Boyd, Rev. Dr. C. H. Wright, Hon. George J. Swinton, Thomas Lord, Richard Mathews and many others.

HOW THEY ARE VOTING.

The Tories Seem To Be Carrying Everything—Charles Dilke beaten.

LONDON, July 6.—The results of Saturday's voting have still further disengaged the Liberals, and very few of them retain hope of victory. Mr. Arthur Morier, the Liberal whip, said at the Reform Club Saturday night, that he had thrown away his vote, and his remarks were very disengaging when applied to the present crisis.

"It is very reluctantly pinned up,

"The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned to room No. 102, on the top floor, and retired for the night. He is thought to have been a stranger in the city, and is described by the night clerk and the chambermaid as a heavy built, and robust 35 years of age. Some who were not known as such were being known whether he had his room on the fourth or fifth floor.

The body was found in a heap of ruins on the fourth floor, but it is probable that he was roasted to death in his room in the story above, and then when the floor fell the body came down with it. At first it was thought to be only a piece of wood, but upon clearing away the debris, the bones and the arms and legs were found to be missing, and it is known that one of these men was in a room on the top floor near the rear of the building, and he probably ran down the stairs and was then unable to go farther.

No clue as to the identity of either has yet been obtained, as the book containing the register of the lodgers and the names of the lodgers and dealers in the building is thought to have been a person who came to the building in a drunken condition, and was not even able to give his name. He was assigned

PROFESSIONAL CAREERS.
GUEN D. JEFFRIES, HENRY C. SMITH
MAGGOLAN G. JEFFRIES, HENRY C. SMITH
Fethers, Jeffries & Smith.
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS.
JEFFRIES BLOCK — JANEVILLE, WIS.
SARAH D. JEFFRIES

T. S. NOLAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3, Bennett's Block
JANEVILLE, WIS.
EX-COLLECTIONS A SPECIALTY.
Solely by himself.

Real Estate and loan Agency
of Saxe & Hoskins.

This firm is now prepared to buy and sell Farms, Woods, Lands, Houses and Lots and Businesses Block and we give the best bargains in the market.

Molly Lonsdale & Conveyancing Done.

Office to Smith's Block, Janesville, Wis.
SARAH D. JEFFRIES

Clara L. Normington, M. D.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE

23 Main St., Over Vankirk's store.

Office hours, 1 to 5 p. m.

saralda

CEO. K. COLLING

Builder and Contractor.

WILL FURNISH

Plans and Specifications for

Building, 70 North Main St

desksaw

W. H. GROVE,

North First St., JANEVILLE.

All work warranted first-class.

A Specialty Made of Horse Shoeing

Also have shop right to see the celebrated

Locy's horse shoe and Paul, Agent for Silver Counter Buggy. Call and see me, it will pay.

JON WINANS, R. M. HYZER

ATTORNEYS-at-LAW

BENNETT'S BLOCK, JANEVILLE

WISCONSIN

JOHN WINANS

R. M. HYZER

Winans & Hyzer

ATTORNEYS-at-LAW

BENNETT'S BLOCK, JANEVILLE

WISCONSIN

T. J. JUDD,

DENTIST

Second Floor, West Side

JANEVILLE, WISCONSIN

Horse Shoeing.

JAMES GARDNER!

Has opened an establishment on East Milwaukee St., close by Calumet Block, where where no will give close attention to horses, shooing and repairing.

Special attention given to shoes of inferior

quality, over-reaching, etc., &c.

W. M. HAWLEY, M. D.

Eclectic Physician

and Surgeon.

Office in Jeffries block, over savings bank between Bridge and Second Street, JANE-

VILLE, WIS., and 2 to 4 p. m. Residence corner of Second and 7th Sts.

Telephone 24-123.

Residence corner of Second and Walker street, Second ward. Call by telephone from any place in town.

Special attention given to shoes of inferior

quality, over-reaching, etc., &c.

W. M. HAWLEY, M. D.

Lady Physician

And Gynecologist.

Office in Jeffries block, over savings bank between Bridge and Second Street, JANE-

VILLE, WIS., and 2 to 4 p. m. Residence

corner of Second and Walker street, Second ward. Call by telephone from any place in town.

Special attention given to shoes of inferior

quality, over-reaching, etc., &c.

C. E. BOWLES

Real Estate and Loan Agent

Offers to buyers an attractive list of FARMS and CITY PROPERTY, and invites negotiations with sellers to sell or exchange.

Honey Loan. Call and have examined, and our special attention given to loans of inferior quality, over-reaching, etc., &c.

F. C. LINDE, HAMILTON & CO.

TOBACCO INSPECTORS,

and Warehousemen.

NEW YORK.

Country Sampling promptly attended to.

T. E. BARRELL, Agent.

Milton Junction and Edgerton, Wis.

augustus

Janesville Agency.

Joseph Schlitz Brewing Comp'y

Of Milwaukee was represented by

BEAUMAIN BOOTS,

Joe Schlitz bottled beer delivered to any part of the city. Headquarters in Pat. Con-cern's Block, West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

JOHN WINANS, E. M. McGOWAN,

Carpenter & McGowan

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW

LAPINSKI BLOCK,

JANEVILLE, WISCONSIN

H. H. BLANCHARD,

Attorney-at-Law

MAIN STREET, JANEVILLE, WIS.

Attention given to Collections and to Foreclosing Mortgages.

Money to Lend.

GEO. H. McCAUSEY

SURGEON DENTIST.

Office in Talman's Block, opposite First National Bank, West Milwaukee street, JANEV-

ILLE, WISCONSIN.

PRACTITIONER OF NATURAL TEETH

AND DISEASES OF THE MOUTH.

Dr. GEORGE H. McCAUSEY

DRUGGISTS.

TUESDAY JULY 6.

LOCAL MATTERS.

If you wish to borrow or loan money, call on

C. E. BOWERS.

$90 will buy a good house and lot, three blocks from the street railway.

H. H. BLANCHARD.

Clear Havana-filled cigars, five cents, at Chase's.

If your husband finds fault with you, do you know how to make him good but not? Give him a cup of Brace &amp; Brown's Faultless Tea.

Lost—A light yellow canary bird. Finder will be rewarded by returning to L. J. Murphy, corner School and South Jackson streets.

Notice.

I desire to take back and apologize for the publication, on Friday, of a notice concerning my wife, Emily, being at fault myself, and wish the public to treat the notice accordingly. Wm. Gould, July 6th, 1886.

When our love tolls the knell of parting day,

And wife and children waiting are for me: I pass by Brace &amp; Brown's grocery on the way.

And carry home a cup of Faultless Tea.

A fine residence, nearly new, surrounded by ten acres of grove and lawn, with new basement barn, bony and nearly every desirable convenience, and on projected street car line, is offered at a very low price. This bargain cannot be duplicated. C. E. BOWERS.

There is no surer sign of the merit of Brace &amp; Brown's cure, Faultless Tea, than its present great popularity.

Uncle Daniel's Story of Tom Anderson, and Twenty Great Battles, by General John A. Logan, for sale at Sutherland's.

13 acres of land in this city, with house, new barn, well, oister, etc., can be bought for one week only, for $1,250. O. E. BOWERS.

The Empire Cross Spring Company keep on hand the best assortment of carriages, buggies and light wagons to be found in the city. They sell at the lowest prices, especially when the quality of the work is considered.

$1,000 will buy a good house and two fine lots in 1st ward, three blocks from the street railway. H. H. BLANCHARD.

The place to buy five cent cigars—Chase's.

Go to Vankirk Bros. for Vale's celebrated Bubut bread.

Fine domestic cigars at Chase's.

Hammock $1.00 and up, all sizes of ice cream freezers at Wheelock's.

If you want a good spring or summer suit, go to T. J. Zeigler's, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Fresh fish every day at Vankirk Bros.

Wonders of Science—Motors. Also, Wonders of Man and Nature—Sublime in Nature, at Sutherland's.

Shurtleff's ice cream in form, brick, or by the gallon delivered to order by Golling, telephone No. 83.

Repairing of all kinds on the shortest notice at the Empire Cross Spring Co., Janesville.

Use Buckle shields and save your horse's tail. For sale at Jas. A. Fathers.

The principal reason of Archie Reid's immense success is that his prices are about one half what others ask.

T. J. Zeigler has the best assortment of hats in the city.

A full line of ladies' or gent's gauze underwear, either long or short sleeves, at 25 cents. Specie bank.

Ancient Reid.

Fresh picked currants at Vankirk Bros.

Wheeler &amp; Stevens, the real estate agents located in the Phoenix block, are always supplied with forms, and desirable city property at bargain prices. They do a general real estate business and show property free of charge. When you want to buy or sell anything in their line call and see them.

For Kest—Bacon of Jeffers block. Enquire at Merchants' bank.

For the best and most durable as well as the cheapest carriages, buggies and light wagons go to the Empire Cross Spring Co., Janesville, Wis., and you will be sure to save money and secure what you want.

Youth's and children's suits in great variety at T. J. Zeigler's, at prices which deft competition.

See E. J. Green's add. New good at new prices. New berry sets, chamber sets and the wonderful one minute coffee pot at 50 cents on the dollar.

Another large invoice of those 30-inch French satins at 12½ cents per yard, a Bort, Bailey &amp; Co's.

Summer shawls of all kinds and descriptions, at popular prices, at Bort, Bailey &amp; Co's.

Oban, one of the best teas in the city for family use, 25 cents a pound at Vankirk Bros.

Fulton market for vegetables and fruit at Vankirk Bros.

Ladies in want of summer wash dress fabrics will find our stock the most complete in the city.

Boat, Bailey &amp; Co.

Pat Gibbons, of Sharou, continues to run the bus line from Sharou to Geneva Lake.

Lap dusters, nets and summer horse clothing at Jas. A. Fathers, corner Court and Main streets.

New brick and Swiss cheese at Archie Reid's.

All qualities of guaze underwear at cost at Archie Reid's.

Call at L. Canniff's on the Public square for cheapest cigars in the city.

If you want a good smoke go to L. Canniff's.

The best stock of shirts in the city, at T. J. Zeigler's.

Shuttleff's brick cream at Skinner's.

Shuttleff's cream served at parties by Skinner. Telephone or mail orders promptly filled.

See the 20-cent lace stripe pictures for 10 cents per yard at Archie Reid's.

It want a gas, oil or gasoline stove refregerator, ice chest, etc., go to Samson's second hand store, near Gazette office, North Main street.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.

Opposite Rock County National Bank.

I know each of them has more than ONE MILLION OF SOLID ASSETS.

And are known for fair dealing. Yes, sir, all of them are in the office of MARK RIPLEY.